

Corporate Leadership Levels

At The Motivational Edge, we believe that besides supporting a particular program or sponsoring a student, our corporate leaders should have the ability to give on a variety of levels and be recognized for their generosity. As valued donors, our Corporate Leaders have the option to be publicly mentioned or to can keep their contributions anonymous.

We know that meaningful experiences outside of the classroom are just as important as in the classroom, so your contributions also promote activities such as: students attending workshops, shows and sporting events with their peers, mentors and/or instructors. We provide for our children outside of the normal educational parameters, so rest assured your money is helping that child in many ways!

Diamond Society
